Headline:
Cloudy start with occasional rain. Clearing later from the west.

Today:
Dull, cloudy morning with occasional rain, perhaps turning heavier at times in the east. Dry and bright conditions gradually feeding from the west from mid-day, to reach all but the eastern coastal districts by early evening. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Tonight:
Patchy rain across far eastern areas clearing by mid-evening. Otherwise mainly dry with broken cloud and relatively light westerly breezes, bringing chance of fog patches, mainly to Armagh and Down. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Sunday:
Any early fog patches soon clearing. Settled with bright and sunny spells with most avoiding the few isolated showers. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Mainly dry with only occasional patchy rain Monday through Wednesday, this largely restricted north of Lough Neagh. However brighter spells will be quite limited.
